IT IS WISE NOT to sit on the safety valve. Yesterday, New York's "patriots" had their parade, and the "Reds," or radicals, had theirs, with no interference by the police. There was no violence.

Let men talk, forbid them to talk, and they'll do something worse.

VERY PATHETIC in New York's radical parade were the young children, some only five or six years old, parading in dusty streets, under a hot sun.

Nothing is to be gained by exhibiting children. Well-meaning fathers and mothers would have been wiser had they sent them to play in the parks, while their fathers and mothers paraded.

Yesterday was a calm May day everywhere. In London, Budapest, Vienna, Berlin, big parades were all peaceful.

Necessity wouldn't let it be otherwise. May day celebrations took the form of religious festivals.

WHILE IT LASTS, a dictatorship seems the simplest form of government. Everything is peaceful in Russia where everybody is radical.

Everything is peaceful in Italy where nobody is allowed to be radical.

IN RUSSIA, reversing the theories of Karl Marx, and managed by extremely able men, the people are quiet, obedient.

In Italy, where Karl Marx would not be publicly mentioned, a nation, naturally radical, is told that there has been too much talk about liberty, and people are obedient.

The question is, "How long?" A Frenchman, falling from the twentieth story, is said to have remarked as he passed the tenth floor:

"It's all right as long as it lasts." How long will it last?

Reasons For Decline And Rises Will Be Studied

"CRASH EFFECT WAS AVERTED"

Business Responded To Remedy; Gives Experience

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 2.—To achieve a greater degree of economic stability for the future, President Hoover is planning an exhaustive study of the stock market collapse of last year, the boom period which preceded it, and the depression which followed.

If his project meets with general approval, the chief executive intends to institute the inquiry when the present situation "clears a little," and, to carry out the investigation, he contemplates the appointment of a commission representing the various fields of endeavor involved.

Mr. Hoover made this known last night in delivering an address before the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in which he also expressed the opinion that the worst effects of the depression of 1929 which he undertook as secretary of commerce and told of how the experience of nearly a decade ago had been applied to counteracting the business decline of the last few months.

Nation Has Advanced
The nation, he said, has advanced in methods of stability in recent years, adding that "the development of our credit system, our statistics, our methods of all show progress."

But, he added, "the whole range of our experiences from this boom and slump should be placed under accurate examination with a view to broad determination of the causes."

Rotary Governor

LAWRENCE H. WEBBER

ELYRIA MAN TO HEAD ROTARY IN 21ST DISTRICT

Election Assured When All Opposition Withdraws

CLEVELAND, May 2.—Lawrence H. Webber of Elyria was slated to become the new governor of the 21st district of Rotary International at the conclusion of the organization's annual two-day convention here today.

Webber's election was assured by the withdrawal of all opposition candidates. He will succeed Arthur R. Christy of Fremont.

Speakers on today's program included Leonard T. Skeggs, Youngstown, past district governor; Edgar F. Allen, Elyria, O., and Dr. James Thomas, Cincinnati.

Edwin Robinson of Sheffield, Eng., yesterday told the convention of the growth of Rotary in Europe and urged overlooking of petty differences existing between nations where the organization is established. Frank Jewel Raymond of East Orange, N. J., asserted Rotary should "overcome the differences of the citizens and the sleepiness of the community."

Nearly 2,000 Rotarians from Northern Ohio attended the sessions.

Pat McDermott Has Brick Tossing Idea

COLUMBUS, May 2.—Pat McDermott, Ohio penitentiary life terms and a member of the notorious company K, had a brick tossing complex today, and, as a result, he landed in solitary confinement.

The killer of Don Mellett, Canton editor, was confined in the barred wire stockade in the prison yard, where 600 mutineers are being held until damaged cell blocks are repaired. Today McDermott obtained a supply of bricks and entertained himself by bombarding convicts who were at work nearby.

National guardsmen rushed into the stockade, overpowered McDermott and put him in "the hole."

3 WARDS REPORTED COMPLETE IN CENSUS; TWO GAIN, ONE LOSES

Check Of Enumeration In City Is Urged; May Have Been Missed

Census enumerators of Salem have reported three of the city's four wards completed. Gains were shown siding in the first, second and third showed a sharp decline in population, 3,379 and those of 1930 showing 3,369.

A greater increase was noted in the second ward where there is an addition of 50 people. The 1920 figures indicated 1,634 residing in the area and the 1930 figures 1,711.

The decrease is noted in the third ward where 1,718 people are listed against 2,057 in 1920. The 1930 enumeration is 359 less than in 1920.

Reasons Are Unknown
Conditions in the third ward came as a distinct surprise to observers who cannot comprehend the reason for the great difference in face of the fact that a great deal of building has been done in the ward in the past 10 years.

While the three wards have been reported as being completed to census headquarters in East Liverpool there is a possibility that enumerators failed to list all residents.

In order to assure that no errors have been made The News is today carrying a blank on page three which can be filled in by those residing in the first, second and third wards who have not been visited by the enumerators.

Small Fire Damages Tent In Pen Stockade Of Columbus

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, May 2.—While Ohio national guardsmen maintained order at Ohio penitentiary after having put down the mutiny of 1300 convicts, Governor Myers Y. Cooper prepared today to study the report of his board of inquiry which investigated the prison fire disaster of April 21.

The investigation was completed last week and the report was submitted first to State Welfare Director Hal H. Griswold. The report will be made public from the governor's office.

The board of inquiry, which took testimony on the circumstances, included prison officials, guards and convicts. All told of efforts to rescue the 320 men who perished in the fire. But none could determine the exact cause of the disaster.

From this testimony, much of its contradictory, the governor will decide where responsibility for the fire shall be placed. He has given no indication as to what action he plans, although it is considered unlikely that he will recommend any change in the administrative personnel of the penitentiary.

The apparent tranquility that crept over the penitentiary after the recalcitrant convicts were removed from the cell blocks in which they kept up an uproar for nine (Continued on Page 4)

Nebraska Towns Hit Hard By Elements; Houses Down

(By The Associated Press)
Angry weather stormed through the middle west late yesterday killing nearly a score of persons, injuring many and destroying property valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Scores of the dead were women. Tornadoes struck at Tekamah, Nebr., Norborne, Mo., and Westby, Wis. in North Dakota, Minnesota, Illinois and Iowa. The loss of life and property damage was due to electrical storms and high winds.

The storms bounded up and down erratically in a territory including nine states. Nebraska, Minnesota and Missouri were hardest hit, but the destructiveness of the wind and driving rains was also felt in the Dakotas, Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois.

The deaths were distributed in seven states.
Four persons were killed at Tekamah, Nebr.

Killed By Lightning
A farmer was killed by lightning near Lanton, N. D.

Two women and a child were drowned near Lake City, Minn., when a cloudburst sent a wall of water down a ravine upon their stalled automobile.

Two women died when their automobile skidded in a storm near Duluth.

A boy was killed at Westby, Wis., when the tornado overtook him as he ran before it, seeking the shelter of his home. He was buried in the debris of a building the storm leveled.

A man in a parked automobile at Rockford, Ill., was killed when the wind blew down a tree that crushed the machine.

A farmer was killed at Kickapoo, Leavenworth County, Kas.

Four persons, including one woman and a 10-year-old girl, died in the tornado at Norborne, Mo.

Electric Plant Fails
The failure of the electric light plant at Tekamah added to the horror of the tornado damage there. Throughout the night doctors at the Tekamah hospital and the American Legion hall, an improvised hospital, worked by lamplight and flashlights, treating scores of men, women and children, many suffering serious hurts.

Streets of the Nebraska town were choked with debris. The tornado whirled toward the town as though to strike at the business district, but it veered and did its greatest damage in a residential area.

Jackson and Homer, Nebr., also were victims of the tornado, though (Continued on Page 3)

CANADA TARIFF TO BE BARRIED

Will Place Commodities On Same Basis As New United States Rates Are Placed

OTTAWA, May 2.—A new budget was before the house of commons today embodying a system of countervailing tariff schedules which will make the Canadian duty on commodities in reciprocal trade between this country and United States equal to the United States tariff.

The products subjected to the countervailing rates are wheat, wheat flour, rye, oats, livestock, eggs, butter, meats, potatoes, soups, cut flowers and cast iron pipe.

The budget does not specifically name the United States, but that is the only country with which Canada carries on any considerable trade in which the commodities listed are both imported and exported.

LABOR INJUNCTIONS

The contest over Judge Parker continues to the infinite edification of the public on many incidental topics. Ohio, for instance, is learning the extent of its senatorial political fact, with Simon D. Fess coming out openly for Judge Parker and the old guard, and Roscoe G. McCullough biding his time to make his learnings. Eventually he will have to come down, but as a temporary position he has certain advantages.

In addition to a mass of other provocative ideas and attitudes on the relations between the supreme and the senate, the senate and the administration, localism and conservatism, labor and vested interests—to mention a few—there is the possibility that a restriction of the use of the injunction in labor disputes will result from the parker discussion.

It was Judge Parker's action in upholding a decision of the supreme court enjoining union organizers from inciting to breach of contract not to become members of unions that furnished the excuse for the opposition to his confirmation.

A subcommittee of the senate judiciary committee, composed of Senators Norris, Blaine and Walsh, has reported the draft of an anti-injunction bill to the full committee.

It forbids issuance of an injunction until the applicant has employed existing methods to settle the dispute, until hearings have been held with opportunity for cross examination, and until it is established that lack of an injunction will result in injury.

The draft of the bill provides also that proceedings for contempt in violating an injunction may not be held before the same judge who issued the injunction.

Use of the injunction in labor disputes is very apparently connected with the perennial question concerning labor's standing as a commodity.

The employer, naturally, looks upon the business he has established as a thing to do with as he thinks best. He takes for granted that his business has an intangible property right in expecting its employees to continue to work.

If they do not care to do so, the right of replacement is claimed. Also, customers should be allowed to continue their patronage with out interference from unions.

These are the bases of the so-called "yellow dog" contracts, which pledged the employee to work under the employer's terms, chief of which was not to become a member of a union.

Employers turned to this form of contract as a protective measure guarding against strikes and labor troubles. In substance, it merely assured the perpetuation of an open shop policy.

The labor injunction is the power behind the "yellow dog" contract. Its opponents have stressed the fact that the acts enjoined are usually crimes either at common law or by statute, yet, in the proceedings a single judge without a jury tries issues of fact as of law. Charges of contempt for violating an injunction are often only by affidavit, with no opportunity for cross-examination. The effect, therefore, is the same as if an individual were prosecuted for a crime without enjoying the rights guaranteed by the constitution to defendants.

Labor's antipathy for labor injunctions is, therefore, understandable. It is unfortunate that the opposition of certain senators cannot be said to arise from a similar antipathy. That is a fact for the American Federation of Labor to remember if its support is sought at election time. The rejection of Judge Parker would be a mere incidental victory for the cause of

HAIL VERGIL!

Musolini again emulates the great Caesar. There is to be held in Naples, Mantua, and Rome particularly, and throughout Italy, a Vergilian celebration—the 2000th birth anniversary of the poet who sang of the soil and the people close to the soil.

The first Caesar, and many of his successors, sought to foster rural content, to make profit of Vergil's ideas. So Musolini now designs to inculcate agrarian civilization as exemplified by "battles of the grain," reclamation of the land, movement and glorification of the peasants.

He is making ready to celebrate the memory of the man who sang of the fields, the mountains and the woods in his "Bucolics" and "Georgics."

The influence of Vergil on Italy has been great. It is, therefore, most fitting that his memory should be celebrated magnificently, as Il Duce intends. He will be hailed in Naples, the celebrations already have begun this April—and later in Mantua, the poet's birthplace, and later in Rome these commemorative ceremonies will be emphasized on sacred Capitoline hill, where later poets, such as Petrarch, were crowned with the laurel wreath.

This is not only good agrarian propaganda, it is good business, for the American followers of the Vergilian cult are numerous and may be counted on to visit Italy this year during the celebrations to be held in honor of the Latin poet. Formally these functions started April 21.

Nations and civilizations pass, change, but the soil and the people of the soil—from whom all civilizations grow—endure. The Italian dictator is wise in this effort to link his modern Italy with the memory of her singer of restful, beautiful rural songs of 20 centuries ago.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

METALS IN THE BODY

Modern research is doing much to show us the mysterious working of the human body. A great deal of this work relates to matters having a direct bearing on the life and health of the race.

New knowledge of the vitamins has made clear that tiny traces of these specific chemical substances are essential to health. Their absence may cause illness or even death for living creatures.

For long it has been known that certain minerals are present in the organs of the body. Here they work in mysterious ways. Recent investigations are bringing new light on this interesting subject.

Two eminent French scientists, P. Dutoit and Christian Zinner, recently made a report to the Academy of Science, in Paris. These men contend that the human heart contains not only copper and aluminum but also a little silver.

The lungs contain probably all of the body's supply of the rare metal called selenium. The brain is said to be particularly rich in tin. The pancreas, that gland which produces insulin and makes possible our eating of sugar, carries considerable quantities of cobalt and nickel.

These interesting conclusions were made possible by the use of an extremely delicate instrument, the spectrograph. By its use these metallic substances were found to be present in the ash from half a hundred or more human organs.

Just what are the duties of these metallic elements in the intricate mechanisms of the body? That is the problem now before the scientists.

Physicists have found that the atoms of each element emit definite wave lengths of light or ultraviolet rays. This happens whenever these atoms are highly heated or electrified. Such rays are sorted out by the spectrograph and permit the atoms actually to be photographed.

We all know how important iron is and how necessary it is that it should be found in the blood. The "hemoglobin" or red coloring matter, which is everywhere present in the body, is an iron compound. With the exception of iron, the most widespread metals in the human organs are copper and silver. They are found, not only in the heart, but also in the kidneys, spleen, liver and in the majority of the glands of the body.

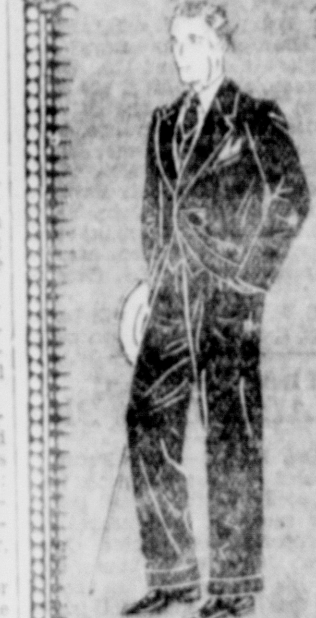

Tin was found, not only in the brain, but in the spleen and in the thyroid gland of the neck, that gland which so often becomes diseased and the seat of goitre. The thyroid gland seems to be a catch-all for these tiny metallic elements—silver, copper, lead, tin and zinc having been found there by the French scientists.

Speaking of the thyroid gland, it has been known for some time that a deficiency of iodine in this gland produces goitre or other diseased conditions. Doctors now quite commonly feed their patients small quantities of iodine in cases of goitre.

Many other investigators are working on the mysterious action of the metals found in the organs of living creatures. Then, too, scientists are interested in investigations into the effects metals have on what plants and their stimulating action upon them.

And thus it is that science and medicine are forward-looking and intent on finding out facts that will promote health. We should be glad the unselfish scientists are so active in our behalf.

Highlights Of Ohio History

By J. H. GALBRAITH

Though the body of Johnny Appleseed (Chapman) rests in Indiana soil, he has always been regarded as belonging to the Ohio country, for it was within the boundaries of the present Ohio that he maintained his headquarters during the time he was planting appleseed in this and adjoining states, preparatory to the coming of the settlers; but a claim is now made for him as a factor in the pioneer history of the beyond the Mississippi country.

The Missouri Historical Review several years ago contained a story of Chapman, written by Iantha Castello, a native Missourian, in which his operations are linked with that of the Mississippi. One story told in the Review has Chapman saving the life of a French explorer, out beyond the Mississippi by going to his cabin at night with a warning that the Indians were about to attack him. "I saw while others sleep," was the form his enigmatical warning took—for the Indians were his friends, sparing him because they regarded him as insane, and it was not to be thought of by them that such a child of the Great Spirit should be harmed.

Another story of Chapman in the Review credited to an Indian woman in Kentucky, is to the effect that Chapman fell in love with a young woman there and when she suddenly died Chapman, interpreting this as a call to act as a harbinger of peace and plenty, set out on his life work. In the hitherto accepted story of Chapman's life this love affair is said to have taken place at his old home near Springfield, Mass.

Miss Castello quotes approvingly the conclusion of Denton J. Snider that in Chapman we have a genuine American mythos—that of a peacemaker and sower of not the Ohio country alone but of the great Mississippi valley.

SOVIETS BEHIND RIOTING; WHALEN SHOWS EVIDENCE

Letters Held By Gotham Police Head Tell Of Russian Plans

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 2.—Police Commissioner Whalen today made public photostats of Russian documents seized by his secret police which he declared showed the Communist International of Moscow was directly responsible for the fomenting of strikes and riots in the United States. There are references in the documents to expenditures for outbreaks and support of strikers.

One of the documents is on the letterhead of the Amtorg trading corporation, official purchasing agent in the United States for the Soviet government. It has offices in New York and has transacted hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of business in this country.

This letter lists the names of 30 men and women sent to New York by Moscow as being hard to replace and states that the recall of any one of them might result in a serious handicap in the work.

Commissioner Whalen said the list of 30 names includes that of one Delgass, whom he described as the most dangerous of the undercover criminal secret police of Moscow and one time personal secretary to Dzerzhinsky, organizer of the Russian Cheka.

Whalen also called attention to the importance given to the documents to Boris Skvirsky, "the unofficial Soviet ambassador," and head of the Russian information bureau at Washington, whom he said is revealed as handling the funds for the "Amtorg G. P. U. section." He explained the G. P. U. was "the undercover criminal secret police of Moscow with branches operating in all countries."

The commissioner said the attention of the police department was drawn to the activities of the Communists through the number of unnecessary and violent strikes which the representatives of labor declared to be backed by the Russian Soviet government.

The documents seized by the police are in the Russian language, but English translations were furnished by Commissioner Whalen.

YOUTHFUL FLIER FAILS AT MARK

Damages To Plane When Forced Landing Is Made Cause

EL PASO, May 2.—Disappointed in his hope of making a transcontinental flight from New York to Los Angeles in three days, Frank Goldsborough, 19, planned to take off today for Tucson, Ariz., on another leg of his flight to California. The pilot sought to establish a new junior transcontinental flight record.

He was delayed yesterday while repairs were made to his plane, damaged when he took off from the coast yesterday morning for El Paso.

Although the lower left wing of the bi-plane was bent back and a spar split in a collision with a telephone pole, Goldsborough flew the crippled plane 100 miles into El Paso. He had made a forced landing in the desert the night before in fear of flying into El Paso as he had planned, and camped out overnight.

STORM

in no degree comparable with Tekamah.

One of the Tekamah dead was Mrs. Hans C. Anderson. Her baby in her arms also was killed when the tornado destroyed their home.

An early estimate placed the Tekamah property damage at $150,000, with another $100,000 loss to property and crops in other Nebraska territory.

Damage Is Heavy
At Westby, Wis., the tornado that killed Archer Funk, nine years old, did another $100,000 damage. Nearly every building on the main street of this town of 1,100 persons was upset or destroyed. A tobacco warehouse was lifted from its foundation and slammed against the walls of a railroad station.

Mrs. W. W. Lawler, her daughter, Betty Jane, and Mrs. Walter Dodge, all of Rochester, Minn., were drowned when a cloudburst swept down from the hills onto the car in which they were riding near Lake City Minn. Two other women leaped from the car and ran to higher ground, escaping the river of water that poured down and covered the stalled machine.

Mrs. C. O. Rice, wife of the president of the Northern Trust company, at Northborne, Mo., and her 17-year-old son, John, were killed when their home was demolished. Two other residences in the town collapsed causing the deaths of Charles Storms 45, a plumber, and 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Shirley.

Other Lives Lost
At Kickapoo, Kas., Lawrence Kern 43, a farmer, was killed.

A storm of tornadic dimensions struck Wabasha and Steele counties in southern Minnesota, destroying small farm buildings and doing other property damage estimated at $100,000.

Although the storm caused loss of life on both sides of Iowa, that state escaped with little damage. The tornado that did such heavy damage in northeastern Nebraska lost its ferocity as it entered Iowa near Sioux City. Rain, hail and high winds were reported from many parts of the state.

Echoes of the storm were felt in Chicago early today with a heavy rain and hail storm.

Convicts Rule Ohio Prison Monarchy

in their demands that Warden Weston E. Thomas be removed as head of the Ohio State Penitentiary, before they will return to their cells, convicts, after the fire at claimed 320 lives, formed a "forty-for facts" committee and are in control of the institution. Reports are made daily to a committee of nine, which virtually rules the prison. Left to right, these committeemen are Murray S. Wolfe, Charles Quinlan, Perry Sullivan, Ed Dolan, Roy Steele, J. R. Winning, Louis Wolfe, Al Far and Lester Falasay.

GANDHI TO LEAD BOMBAY MARCH

Plans Of Indian Leader Portend Difficulties For England

LONDON, May 2.—Plans of Mahatma Gandhi to lead his civil disobedience movement personally in Bombay if 100,000 followers wearing homespun can be assured him were regarded here today as portending possibly the most serious developments yet of the present unrest.

While there has been no act tending to confirm published statements yesterday that arrest of the Satyagraha leader was imminent, there was general opinion that the government could not hold its hand much longer if the Mahatma persists in this intention.

Gandhi has thousands of followers in Bombay already enrolled with recruits coming constantly. Although professing a policy of non-violent resistance to law it has been the experience of authorities in the past that such non-violence sometimes breeds disturbances with regrettable outcomes.

Uncertainties on the northern frontier continue to arouse apprehension here. Peshawar is reported still quiet but the India national congress agitators are busy there and in the surrounding country.

Ice Company Seeks To Enforce Contact

LISBON, May 2.—The Citizens Ice and Coal company of Salem has filed a petition in court here, seeking an order to restrain Harry A. Sittler of Columbiana, from engaging in ice business within a radius of 10 miles of Columbiana.

The petition was filed through the concern's attorneys, Metzger, McCord and McCorkhill of Salem. The plaintiff purchased equipment and business owned by Sittler in Columbiana on September 13, 1929. An agreement was made between the parties that Sittler would not engage in a similar business for a period of five years within a radius of 10 miles from Columbiana.

Sittler is alleged to have violated the agreement and is said to be selling ice in the restricted area for Youngstown concern. A hearing will be held on the case at 10 a. m. Monday.

what can be done to achieve greater stability for the future, both in prevention and remedy. If such an exhaustive examination meets with general approval, I shall, when the situation clears a little, move to organize a body—representative of business, economics, labor and agriculture—to undertake it.

"I do believe that our experience shows that we can produce helpful and wholesome effects in our economic system by voluntary co-operation through the great associations representative of business, industry, labor and agriculture, both nationally and locally."

The president said that in his opinion the intensity of the speculative boom which reached its climax in the crash of last fall was as great or greater than that of "any of our major manias before, but that the intensity of the slump which followed it had been greatly diminished by the efforts that were made to counteract it.

He went on to describe the program undertaken by the government in co-operation with business leaders and then he said:

"We have succeeded in maintaining confidence and courage. We have avoided monetary panic and credit stringency.

From the moment of the crash, interest rates had steadily decreased and capital has become steadily more abundant. Our investment markets have absorbed over two billions of new securities since the crash. There has been no significant bank or industrial failure. That danger is safely behind us."

Need Accurate Statistics
One great need, the president said is complete and reliable statistics at all times on the extent of unemployment. The present census, he added, will provide this for the first time. What information has already been obtained, he said, leads to the belief that unemployment has greatly decreased since the first of the year.

Summarizing the present situation, the chief executive said: "We have been passing through one of those great economic storms which periodically bring hardship and suffering upon our people. While the crash only took place six months ago, I am convinced we have now passed the worst and with continued unity of effort we shall rapidly recover."

PARKER VOTING STILL DOUBTFUL

Both Sides Claim Gains In As Senate Struggle Is Progressing

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Both friends and opponents of Judge John J. Parker claimed voting gains today in the senate's struggle over the jurist's nomination as an associate justice of the supreme court. The opposition in particular was more than ever confident of the outcome and its leaders let it be known that they were ready for a vote at any time.

Although regarding the outlook as more hopeful, the administration group, which is defending the nominee against charges of prejudice from labor and Negro organizations, indicated a preference that the vote be postponed until Monday.

Following its usual procedure, the senate will not be in session tomorrow and thus should adjournment tonight find the issue still unsettled, the roll-call will go over to next week.

The protests against Parker came from the American Federation of Labor and the Society for the Advancement of Colored People.

BEER POTENT JUDGE CLAIMS

Woman With Auto Fined One Hundred and Costs By Court After Her Admission

EVANSTON, Ill., May 2.—The beer out here is very potent, said Magistrate Barber to Miss Helen Lynch yesterday.

The charge of reckless driving against her was regarded by Miss Lynch as "ridiculous."

"Why," she said, "I had only one small glass of beer."

"You mean to say," interrupted Prosecutor Stella, "that you consumed a glass—an entire glass—of beer? why, that makes a complete case against you. A whole glass of beer—an automobile—reckless driving. It's an inevitable combination."

"That is correct," said the court, fining Miss Lynch $100. "Any person who drinks as much as a teaspoonful of beer now in circulation hereabouts is reckless, very very reckless."

LITTLE VIOLENCE MARKS MAY DAY AFFAIRS IN OHIO

Thousands Participate In Buckeye State Events; Marchers Routed

Thousands of Communist-led Ohioans participated in May Day demonstrations and parades, but for the most part there was nothing more violent than the exhortations of their orators.

Police, held in readiness for instant action in the larger cities, found occasion for interference only in Akron and Cincinnati.

Akron police swung their night sticks when marchers insisted upon a route other than mapped out by officials and three men and two girls were arrested on disorderly or inciting to riot charges. A few persons were bruised, but none seriously.

Cincinnati police broke up a gathering of 500 persons when they heard shouts that "10,000 jobless persons are starving in Cincinnati." One woman and three men were arrested.

600 Gather In Cleveland
Cleveland police, mindful of a recent riot of unemployed at the city hall steps, made elaborate preparations to maintain order. Only about 600 persons gathered in the public square, however, and confined themselves to speech-making and a parade.

Canton amused itself watching Capt. Robert J. O'Brien espousing the cause of Americanism, and Carl Guillard, pleading for Communist converts, hold forth at opposite corners of the courthouse esplanade. A crowd of 500 listened to orators on the state house grounds at Columbus in an orderly manner, as did similar gatherings at Dayton and other cities.

NEW YORK — It's a delightful May Day for investors in American industry. Dividend disbursements today by some 600 corporations run into millions of dollars.

Official Testifies In Steel Argument

YOUNGSTOWN, May 2.—Taking of depositions in the suit brought by Cyrus S. Eaton's interests to restrain merger of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company with the Bethlehem Steel corporation was resumed here today with W. J. Morris, vice president of Sheet and Tube, scheduled to testify.

Morris' testimony, started Tuesday, was interrupted by the shift of the hearing to Cleveland, where Harry J. Crawford, counsel for Eaton, announced yesterday that the books of Pickands, Mather and Company will be subpoenaed as evidence.

OHIO PEN

Days was broken late yesterday when fire damaged a tent in the barred wire stockade in the prison yard. The blaze was discovered and quickly extinguished by national guardsmen while the 600 prisoners now quartered in the stockade were in the mess hall for the evening meal. Guard officers at first said a prisoner started the fire but later reported that the tent was ignited by a discarded cigarette.

The convicts were laced in the stockade pending repairs to their cell blocks damaged during the disturbances. The remainder of the inmates, numbering about 400, were given temporary quarters in other parts of the prison. The repair work is expected to require 30 days and indications were that the national guardsmen would be kept.

Close Out of Odds and Ends

Starts Saturday Morning at 9 o'Clock, Our Entire 2nd Floor Devoted to This Event

Regardless of the size of any store — whether it be very large or very small — there is always a certain amount of merchandise that remains unsold. In many cases, there are only two or three of a number. In other cases more. In a few instances, the merchandise is soiled from handling or from window display.

These odds and ends include stock from almost every department — good desirable merchandise, in the majority of cases requiring only to be laundered.

We have assembled all these odd groups on our second floor, given over the entire space to the display and close out of this merchandise.

Tables and counters are piled high with goods — the savings are stupendous. Cost has been entirely overlooked in the re-marking of these goods — in most instances the prices are much less than the actual worth of the material.

Follow the people to the second floor, where outstanding values await you. Practically every department sharing in this saving event. Come early — groups are incomplete.

TODAY

nick this fall will know that they are voting not for the nominee of any corporation, but for a woman who pays her own way in politics, and sets a good example.

YOU MAY SAY IT IS OUTRAGEOUS

to spend so much in a primary campaign. So it is. But it was not spent, in this case, for bribery or votes.

An expensive primary is better than the old-fashioned convention, with bosses of both parties appointing the nominees of both parties, in obedience to corporations controlling both parties.

England, France and Belgium have reduced the discount rate, which means that you can get money more cheaply there. You could get it in Paris under a 4 per cent while American buyers of stocks were paying 15 per cent.

Our Federal Reserve reduces its discount rate in the New York district to 3 per cent.

with which stocks are bought, will be cheap for the present.

Nevertheless, stocks were weak yesterday.

Some apparently were wise enough to know that even cheap money is dead, if you use it to gamble.

Six months ago 3 per cent call money would have meant 10,000,000 shares a day on the Stock Exchange.

THE WESTERN WORLD

will hear with regret of another earthquake in Tokyo, unusually strong. Japan is on the edge of a gigantic submarine canyon, deepest in the Pacific ocean. Frequent ocean land slides explain the earthquakes that have numbered as many as 1,500 in one year. The courage of the Japanese is admirable.

The price of sugar for future delivery sold yesterday at the lowest price on record since the Civil war, raw sugar selling for 153 cents a pound. Sugar men are worried about the tariff here and in Great Britain.

Slayer Of Three Taken By Officers

MODESTO, CAL., May 2.—Object of a four-day hunt as the suspected slayer of three ranch hands, Charles Wiley alias Charles Dodge, was captured at Crows landing, near here, early today.

State highway patrol officers and deputy sheriffs who arrested Wiley said he had confessed killing Jack Murphy, Deloise C. Fultz and Joseph Barton in a ranch cabin last Monday morning.

Wiley's alleged confession related that he and the three men had participated in a drinking party the day before the killing and that his companions attacked him. He said he armed himself and returned to their cabin the next day and shot them down.

"BISHOP MURDER CASE"
That S. S. Van Dine's best seller, "The Bishop Murder Case," is fully as exciting on the screen as it is in book form. It is indicated at the State where the most thrilling of an...
A detective reception opened to an...
A cleverly contrived tale of a...
A man who murders indiscriminately, leaving a black chess bishop and a sneering verse in "Mother Goose" rhyme beside each victim, has been effectively adapted to the screen by Lenore J. Coffee with the direction in the joint hands of Nick Grinde and David Burton.
Audience go into ecstasies of shivering and gasping as four of the characters are done away with while conjecture as to the identity of the mysterious "bishop" runs rampant. However, true to mystery-film form, the solution of the puzzle is not revealed until the last few feet of the picture.

"HOT FOR PARIS"
At The Grand
The story in "Hot For Paris" deals with the first mate of an Australian jammer who buys a ticket on "Dark Japan," a rank outsider in the Grand Prix. "Dark Japan" wins and this means a million dollars to the holder of the ticket. Then comes a wild chase to find "Duke," played by Victor McLaglen, the holder of the ticket and his efforts to evade his pursuers as he thinks they are trying to arrest him.
The chase brings McLaglen and his Swedish sailor pal, El Brendel, into contact with Fifi Dorsay, a singer and dancer in a French cafe. A romance between McLaglen and Fifi is carried on through the exciting and hilarious events of the picture, aided by Polly Moran.
There are many song interpolations by Fifi Dorsay and McLaglen singing a number, "I'm the Duke of Kakiyak."
The supporting cast includes Anita Murray, Lennox Pawle, August Teller, George Pavetti, Charles Judels, Eddie Dillon, Rosita Marzini, Agostino Borgato and Yola D'Avril.

Twins In Talkies
The latest event in talking movies is the Gobb Twins, Margaret and Mary, the only American-born linked twins who ever survived birth. They are on the screen at the Grand.

EMB 568 1892
This is an exquisite little model for a tiny girl. There are caps over the shoulders in place of sleeves, and smocking or gathering creates the necessary fullness in the front. Dainty lace edging finishes the neck and caps. Note the back opening to facilitate slipping over the head.
Pattern 1892 is lovely made of dimity, silk crepe, lawn, batiste, pongee or fine linen. A print or a plain color may be chosen. If printed fabric is used, the smocking should be done in color to correspond with the printed design.

Designed only for sizes 2, 4, 6 and 8. Size 4 requires 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch material and 1 1/2 yards narrow lace.

School Teacher In Court For Spanking

ELYRIA, May 2.—The case of Mrs. Myrtle Bradley, 22, school teacher of the New Berlin district charged with assault and battery for paddling Mary Margaret Oerthartinger, a six-year-old pupil, was due to reach the jury today.

The defense closed late yesterday with Mrs. Bradley's own statements and only rebuttal testimony and final arguments remained to be heard today.

Mrs. Bradley demonstrated how she used the 18-inch wooden paddle in an effort to show she was not "unnecessarily severe" in punishing Mary and another little girl for taking part in a "naughty episode."

Passion Flower
By Kathleen Norris
Doubleday, Doran & Co.

Mrs. Norris is one of America's most prolific writers. To write a novel seems to require very little time and it is nothing at all for her to produce several books a year. To be able to do this she must be a keen observer of human nature.

Cassy Pringle is a girl of wealth and position but is kept under the strict jurisdiction of her parents, never allowed to do the normal things of a girl of the present time. When her father employs a hand-some chauffeur, Cassy, for the first time is thrown with a man of her own generation, and the inevitable happens.

Cassy and Dan elope. From wealth to poverty, but Cassy has more freedom than she has ever known. Finally when things are at their worst, Cassy asks her father for a ranch and things brighten and life is even more fun to Cassy and a little more easier for Dan.

But a beautiful young widow causes the tempest in the tea-pot. Dan forgets Cassy and his two children, and a divorce ensues. But after a year of marriage with the lovely widow, he longs for Cassy once more. Then tragedy walks into the scene. But Cassy's courage and her love for Dan carries her thru. Finally the wealth and position she lost when she married Dan are restored.

The Hidden City
By Sir Philip Gibbs
Doubleday, Doran and Co.

"The Hidden City" is the part of London as it can be any city, great or small, that is hidden from the casual onlooker. It is the city of the minds of the people that live there of their struggles and their joys.

Dr. John Jevons, once a ship's doctor, hangs out his shingle on King's Road, Chelsea, and hopes to gain an entrance into this secret city. He is not so much interested in the aches and pains of his patients, as in the deep-rooted cause of their ailments. He believes it is the sickness of the mind that causes the sickness of the body.

It is a post-war London that he has to deal with. Civilization has speeded up to such a pitch that nerves are taut, people are attempting to escape boredom through the movies, night clubs and fast driven motors, but being bored just the same.

Among his patients is the young movie actor who takes gas to escape, but doesn't get quite enough; the wife of a financial magnate who lives in mortal terror for fear her past will be disclosed and the same magnate's open disgrace on

Aerial Romance Hits Headwinds

CLEVELAND, May 2.—The air romance of Pilot J. C. Mackey of Columbus and Elise Taylor of Cleveland, which apparently had weathered headwinds and legal obstacles alike, now has more difficulties with the law.

Probate Judge F. O. Phillips of Medina wants to question the bride concerning her age and residence. The couple, after being forced down a few days ago at Ashtabula while flying Toyestfield, N. Y., to be married, and making an unsuccessful effort to obtain a license at Ashtabula, announced they had gone on to Westfield and that the ceremony had been held there. Judge Phillips, however, said he had issued a license to the couple at Medina and that they had been married there Tuesday by Justice of the Peace W. P. Ainsworth. The bride gave her age as 21 to newspapermen, but Judge Phillips said she told him she was 22 and had lived in Brunswick, a Medina county township, for two years.

The judge sent Sheriff Lyman Buffington to Cleveland yesterday to take the bride back on a perjury warrant, but the sheriff found the couple had gone to Columbus.

New Records Expected In Annual Ohio Relays At Columbus

George Simpson May Crash Own Record In Race With Fast Field

COLUMBUS, May 2.—Track and field champions from colleges, universities and high schools the country over are gathered here today for the Ohio relays, the last big relay meet of the year.

Among the visitors are many of the winners and runners-up of the Penn and Drake relays, and judging from their performances so far this season most Ohio relay records will be swept off the boards.

The southwest, the middle west, and the east will fight it out in the feature race of the meet—the open relay, first man to run 9.4 in the century, faces Claude Bracey, of Rice Institute and Eddie Tolson of Michigan, National A. A. U. sprint champion.

Simpson Holds Record
Simpson has won the Ohio relays century for two years, breaking the meet record each time. In 1928 he struggled through mud and rain to

Major Leagues Await Graduate

Ernest Jenkins, Duke University baseball pitcher, is being sought by the majors after graduation in June. Both the Giants and the Athletics have conferred with him and both are anxious to have him sign on the dotted line. Jenkins was said to be most responsible for Duke winning the Southern Conference championship last year and for the fine showing of the team so far this season.

Frosh-Junior High Meet Here Today

The annual freshmen-junior high track and field meet will be held at Reilly stadium this afternoon.

Junior high tracksters, preparing for athletic careers in high school, will compete for honors with a fairly strong representation of yearlings in 13 contests.

Intersectional Play Opens As Big League Teams Trek Into East, West; Two Games

(By The Associated Press)

The opening of the intersectional play in the major leagues is generally considered as starting the first real tests of relative strength among the teams.

The intersectional action of the 1936 campaign begins in earnest today after a two-game preview yesterday which gave an exciting hint of what may happen.

In the American league contest, the Philadelphia Athletics, opened their first real test of the year to trounce the Detroit Tigers, 19 to 2. The Athletics are in fourth place after the eastern series, due principally to their inability to make any progress against Washington.

What The Stars Did Yesterday

WALTER BERGER, Braves—Smashed out two more home runs to aid Braves in 4-3 victory over Pirates.

JIMMY FOX and MAX BISHOP, Athletics—Between them they hit four home runs and a single, drove in seven runs and scored seven as A's beat Tigers, 19-2.

48 Schools In Tech Contests At Pittsburgh

Salem High Given Slight Honors Saturday

ED BECK DECLARED ELIGIBLE HERE

Bill Smith, Harold Walker Expected To Score In Discus, Mile

Nine hundred schoolboy athletes from several states, including Salem High's star squad, will compete in the fourteenth annual Carnegie Tech track and field meet at Tech field, Pittsburgh, Saturday.

Coach Floyd W. Stone will take a strong delegation of Red and Black tracksters, entering athletes in practically every event. The meet is one of the most important in the tri-state district. Approximately 50 schools have been entered.

Salem is given little chance to score meet honors but will probably score points in the discus, mile, half mile, low hurdles, shot put and pole vault. The broad jump may also possibly result in points for the Stonemen, Henry Reese and Bill Smith being entered.

Smith is favored to take first in the discus throw while Polly Sartick and Ray Smith who will also be competing in the event, are also given chances to score. Harold Walker is touted as the best miler in the meet while Keith Harris and Irwin Beck will be prominent Buck-eye state contenders in the 800.

The Red and Black's chances for victory were given a blow when Ed Beck was declared ineligible because of scholastic difficulties. Beck is down in two subjects and may not be eligible for the Big Ten night meet which will be held at Reilly stadium next Wednesday.

"Konjola Easily Best Medicine I Ever Tried"

Lady Suffered For Years From Indigestion That Defied Every Remedy Put to the Test

MRS. G. E. ROSEBOUGH

"Konjola is the best medicine I ever tried, and I tried so many in an effort to escape from indigestion that I had about abandoned hope of ever succeeding," said Mrs. G. E. Rosebough, 47 Sycamore Street, Dayton, Ohio. "Knowing the pain and distress that was sure to follow every meal, I ate just enough to keep me going, and naturally I lost weight, strength and vitality. There were many days when I was too sick and weak to do my house work. My complexion was yellow, and I was in poor condition generally.

"Konjola was brought to my attention by endorsements of my Dayton people, and I finally made up my mind to try it. Well, I certainly had a fine surprise in store for me. My appetite began to improve, and I found that from day to day I could eat more and suffer less. Improvement kept on steadily and when I had finished my ninth bottle of Konjola I was able to eat anything I craved. My complexion is clear, and I am feeling simply great."

Many express amazement at the speed with which Konjola works. It does, but a course of from six to eight bottles is strongly recommended. Konjola is both a medicine and a tonic, rich in up-building powers.

Konjola is sold in Salem, Ohio, at The J. H. Lease Drug Co. Three Stores, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Girlhood

The trying time in a young girl's life is reached when Nature leads her uncertain steps across the line which divides girlhood and womanhood. Neglect at this critical period is largely responsible for much of the misery of women. Often there is need of some safe, strengthening tonic to overcome the languor, nervousness and distress girls commonly experience at this time. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription soothes the nerves, encourages the appetite and helps the entire womanly organism. It is purely herbal—contains no harmful ingredients. "Konjola Easily Best Medicine I Ever Tried"
Lady Suffered For Years From Indigestion That Defied Every Remedy Put to the Test

MRS. G. E. ROSEBOUGH

"Konjola is the best medicine I ever tried, and I tried so many in an effort to escape from indigestion that I had about abandoned hope of ever succeeding," said Mrs. G. E. Rosebough, 47 Sycamore Street, Dayton, Ohio. "Knowing the pain and distress that was sure to follow every meal, I ate just enough to keep me going, and naturally I lost weight, strength and vitality. There were many days when I was too sick and weak to do my house work. My complexion was yellow, and I was in poor condition generally.

"Konjola was brought to my attention by endorsements of Dayton people, and I finally made up my mind to try it. Well, I certainly had a fine surprise in store for me. My appetite began to improve, and I found that from day to day I could eat more and suffer less. Improvement kept on steadily and when I had finished my ninth bottle of Konjola I was able to eat anything I craved. My complexion is clear, and I am feeling simply great."

Many express amazement at the speed with which Konjola works. It does, but a course of from six to eight bottles is strongly recommended. Konjola is both a medicine and a tonic, rich in up-building powers.

Konjola is sold in Salem, Ohio, at The J. H. Leide Drug Co. Three Stores, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation

Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Absence of this roughage is the direct cause of constipation which results in so many other ills—headaches, listlessness, general depression, indigestion and, sometimes, serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Two tablespoons daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood, bringing red, healthy color to the complexion. It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with cream or milk added. It is a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, such as bran muffins, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation. Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

LOANS MADE on Your Personal Responsibility

IT IS better to borrow money to pay old bills than to let them become past due. It is also a great deal more desirable to get a loan here than to borrow from friends or relatives.

We will loan you $10 to $300 confidentially and in a dignified, business-like way on your own responsibility. Only your own signatures are required. You are given ample time to repay us in small monthly amounts. There is a great deal more satisfaction in solving your own money problems in this way than to rely upon well-meaning but talkative friends.

Let us tell you more about this modern financing plan which helps the particular borrower to help himself. You will not be obligated in any way.

Charities Will Is Sent Into Probate

CLEVELAND, May 2.—Despite a contest instituted by six relatives, will of Mrs. Fidelia Winifred D. Falls, providing bequest of $50,000 each to five Cincinnati charitable institutions and five national mission societies, had been admitted to probate court today.

The contesting relatives contend Mrs. Falls was not competent when she drew the will in July of 1920, claiming she was placed under the guardianship of the Cuyahoga county probate court two years later.

Places Padlocked

CLEVELAND, May 2.—Thirteen northern Ohio places today were under padlock orders issued by Federal Judge Paul Jones. They are a soft drink parlor in Cleveland, another at 21 Ninth-st., Campbell, Youngstown suburb; and a hotel at 280 Broadway, Lorain.

Liver and Kidney Disorders Respond To Owa-Ton-Na

This Fine Old Indian Remedy Quickly Routes Local Resident's Suffering

Another of Newark's residents has found in Owa-Ton-Na an aid in restoration of body health. Mr. H. B. Smith, 91 S. Second street, for many years a railroad employee, found himself the victim of considerable suffering until he gave this fine old Indian remedy, Owa-Ton-Na, a trial. He says: "I suffered considerably with indigestion, gas attacks and sourness of my stomach. I would get dizzy and I would have to catch myself to keep from falling."

"Although I have only used Owa-Ton-Na a short time, it has certainly made a big change in my condition. Food doesn't distress me any more, my appetite is improved. Gas and bloating spells are a thing of the past. My kidneys are acting fine, those terrible dizzy spells have disappeared. You can imagine how pleased I am with this fine old Indian remedy when it has done me so much good. I don't suffer with those headaches and backaches, pains in my joints are almost gone. I can certainly recommend Owa-Ton-Na to anyone who is not feeling just right."

LONDON — Why does Britannia rule the waves? It is not because of roast beef, if Sir William Wallcut, M. P., is right. "It was beer that built up our nation," he argued in commonsense.
